

Tuesday,
November 1, 2016

6 to 8:30 PM

New York Aquarium
602 Surf Ave, Brooklyn, NY
11224

CLIMATE FORUM SERIES: FROM HURRICANES TO SNOW STORMS

What is the difference between a hurricane and a Nor'easter?

What is the outlook for these storms?

How can communities prepare?

Even after Hurricane Season is over, we should not let our guard down for the Nor'easter Season. To transition and prepare between the seasons, we invite experts, emergency managers, and community leaders to share their knowledge, forecasting and preparing for hurricanes and nor'easters. Join in the discussion and learn about the measures that can protect you, your family, and your home.

Please register for this FREE event at: https://srijb_climateforums_1.eventbrite.com

In attendance: Consortium for Climate Risk in the Urban Northeast • National Weather Service New York Weather Forecast Office • NYC Office of Emergency Management • Stevens Institute of Technology • Wildlife Conservation Society • New York Sea Grant

Parking is available. Food and Refreshments will be provided.